Have for some time felt the necessity of more room in their large and growing business, and in order to meet that want have decided to build an additional story on the building they now occupy, which will give an increase of room 21 feet in width by 100 in depth. This improvement necessitates room and dirt. and the only way to make room and avoid the dirt is to close out our entire stock of goods.

We will commence on MONDAY, December 29, to sell all goods at and below cost. Everything will be educed. This is no sham, but a positive sale. d27

DEAR SIR With the opening of the new year we also open a ne feature in our business. We have for many years past been conducting a large and successful shirt business. but have been laboring under the disadvantage of having them made off the premises. We have been so forand well-known shirt cutter, Mr. C. W. Hutchinso late with Mr. P. T. Hall, he having successfully followed the late Mr. John W. Amer and his Palmer sys tem of cutting. Mr. Hutchinson has also had som fifteen years' experience with some of the best New York houses. public generally that he will appreciate any effort on their part to forward his interests. Our shirts will now be cut and made on the premises, and we promise you more expediency and a better fit than ever before at tained in this city in the shirt trade. Hoping you will kindly bear us in mind and favor with your future orders we are. Very sincerely. H. T. MILLER, Manager;

DAILY REMARKS ON LIFE ASSURANCE.
WEDNESDAY, December 31, 1890. Death, as the Psalmist saith, is certain to all; all shall die. Henry IV. Part 2.

Tomorrow and a new year is begun. What the coming year has in store for you time alone can tell. One of the greatest duties you owe your family is to protect it after you have finished this life, and in no manner can this be done so abundant y and effectively as by having your line insured for their benefit. Not only do you protect them, but should you live until your policy matures (10, 15 or 20 years) you will have made a most judicious investment, being able to draw our considerably more than you paid in, or securing a paid-up policy for a large sum. It is the best possible way to save money. In making up your list of "good resolutions" be sure to include taking a policy in the Equitable.

Are they not men who know that in order to secure good, perfect-fitting clothes it is necessary to go to a first-class tailor. You had better a hundred times put your money in custom-made clothes instead or ready-made. You will then have the satisfaction of knowing you are comfortably and stylishly dressed. The lot of a newspaper carrier is not a happy one at best. Duty well performed ninety-nine days in a hundred gains slight recognition, while failure, from any cause, on the hundredth is sure to bring about his head all sorts of unpleasantness. Although this appears to be the general rule of life, it is hardly fair: and the present is an excellent time to "even up things" where a balance happens to be on THE BALL THAT WAS TO BE GIVEN hast night by the Knights of St. Vincent was postponed through misunderstanding. Due notice will be given through the papers when it takes place. therefore ventures to bespeak such acknowledgment of the carrier's services as seems called for by the season of greetings and remembrances, coupled with the beauty of the token he brings, and the manner in which his humble but none the less onerous and exacting duty has been performed during the twelve-

MR. SHERMAN'S POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. Sherman made the point of order that a resolution which had been offered in the morning hour and has gone over without action at the close of the morning hour does not come up as "unfinished business" in the morn-ing hour, but must go to the calendar and can only be taken up on motian.

Mr. Morgan insisted that his resolution was properly before the Senate and that Mr. Sherman himself was out of order. He informed that Senator that he (Mr. Morgan) was on the floor not by his permission, but as a representative of the state of Alabama, and that the Senator that we will be stated on the state of t ator from Ohio could not put him off the floor.

THE POINT OF ORDER SUSTAINED. After further colloquy between the two Senators in a somewhat irascible tone the Vice President sustained Mr. Sherman's, point of order. He said: The chair finds that, although

Mr. Sherman-The appeal is not debatable. THE CLOSURE TYRANNY. Mr. Morgan-Yes, it is, and the attempt to suppress debate is part of the closure tyranny. It is something which I did not expect, but it shows that a spirit pervades the minds of Sena-tors on the other side to choke down all in-quiry into this bill, and even into what it con-man to concede for him that a reference to the Mississippi constitution was irrelevant. He had had occasion to refer to it, and he had done so in support of his contention that there was a continued purpose.

SUPPRESS THE NEGRO VOTE IN THE SOUTH. Mr. George-And yet the Senator from Massachusetts (Mr. Honr) made the clear confession yesterday that this bill in no section, in me soon yesterday that this bill in no section, in me sentence and in no line contained any remedy for the alleged wrong in the constitution of Mississippi. And so I find myself on this last day of the expiring year (twenty-five years after the firing of the last gun in the unfortu-nate civil strife) and when the time of the Sen-ate is pressed for a consideration of the public business, compelled in defense of the motives and actions of a sovereign state to occupy the time of the Senate in this concededly irrelevant discussion.

DEFENDING HIS STATE. M. George proceeded to review and to de-

M. George proceeded to review and to defend the course of the people of Mississippi in the adoption of their new constitution and to discuss in that connection the constitutions and statutes of other states on the subject of suffrage and of negroes.

In winding up this part of his argument Mr. George said that he had thus gone through the history of the legislation and the constitutional provisions of northern and western states, not with a view of charging their people with inconsistency, but with the view of showing the judgment of the American people that the negro race was incapable of self-government. This was before the adoption of the fifteenth constitutional amendment had prohibited distinctions on account of race. Mississippi, having a larger proportion of negro population than any other state, having 100,000 voters who are unable to read and who are uninformed as to civil and free institutions, had seen proper to call a convention to correct the evil, not of negro suffrage per se, but of ignorant and debased suffrage.

BATEMAN & CO. ASSIGN. fortunate Investments in the Atlantic and Danville Railroad the Direct Cause.

THE FAILURE PRECIPITATED BY THE INABILITY How the Custom Will be Observed OF CREDITORS OF THE FIRM TO MEET THEIR OBLIGATIONS-MR. BATEMAN COMES TO WASH-

A special from New York to the Philadelphia Press says: The firm of Bateman & Co., bankers of No. 57 Broadway, made an assignment today to John A. Garver of Shearman & Sterling. Commodore Arthur Edgerton Bate-man, one of the members of the firm, also made an individual assignment to the same gentleman and the assignments will be filed in the county clerk's office in the morning. "The senior partner," said Mr. Charles E. Coon, one of the firm, "has been ill for the last eight months, and most of the time Commo dore Bateman has been in Europe. He has not been able to attend to any business since early in May last, and although still ill, he has recently returned home in order to gradually liquidate his business. The assignment of the firm and also the senior member was precipitated by the failure of creditors upon whom we relied to meet our obligations. It is believed that all of the creditors of the firm are substantially secured, and will lose nothing."

A RAILWAY TO BLAME. It was learned, though, that the disaster we the direct result of the firm's investments in the Atlantic and Danville Railroad Company of Virginia. This road was chartered in 1882 and the main line of 205 miles runs from Portsmouth, Va., to Danville, Va. With its branches there are all told 282 miles of track. The bonded indebtedness of the road is put down in Poor's Manual at $3,902,000 and the stock indebted-ness at $4,990,000.

It is known that this company has been favorite one with Commodore Esteman for several years. Associated with him in its de-velopment have been certain English capitalists and their inability to squeeze through the recent money pressure and come to the sup-port of the firm has been the direct result of the firm's collapse.

It is not known what the liabilities or asset

THE PIEM. The members of the firm are Commodo Arthur Edgerton Bateman, Chas. E. Coon, exassistant secretary of the treasury under Presassistant secretary of the treasury under Fres-ident Arthur, and Mr. Walter Watson, jr. This firm was organized on February 26, 1890. Com-modore Bateman has been a member of the exchange since September 20, 1882, and Mr. Watson dates his membership from February 28, 1889. Commodore Bateman was seldom on the floor, and since the present firm was formed Mr. Watson has done the firm's business on the exchange.

THE RAILBOAD BURDEN. The Atlantic and Danville Railway Company was chartered April 21, 1882. The main line runs from Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va., to order. He said: The chair finds that, although there has been a variance of practice on this question, the weight of the precedents has been against the position taken by the Senator from Alabama. The chair is of opinion that a resolution which has gone over one day and has been considered the following day and not disposed of (as in the case with this resolution) should then go to the calendar, and can only be taken up on motion or by unanimous branch, are three and one-half miles and five miles. The two other branches, the Nansemond river branch and the Hodges ferry branch, are three and one-half miles and five miles.

ror the year ending December 31, 1888, the net earnings of the road were $96,847. The last financial statement issued showed a capital stock of $3,170,000; funded debt. $2,336,000; car trust notes outstanding, $28,665, making a total of $5,734,665. The cost of the road and equipment was placed at $5,604,055. The Mercantile Trust Company is the trustee of bonds and registered stock.

WELL KNOWN IN WALL STREET. The firm has been well known in Wall street. Commodore Bateman has been one of its most picturesque figures for half a dozen years and picturesque figures for half a dozen years and Mr. Coon has been highly regarded since he retired from his place in Washington and was known to the bankers and brokers of Wall street. Commodore Bateman was master's mate in the navy and is a relative of Senator John Sherman. On his retiring from the navy he opened an office in Washington and started business as a banker and broker with New York connection. With him at that time was associated Col. Dudley. The Washington office is in charge of Francis E. Trowbridge, formerly a prominent member of the New York Stock Exchange.

INVESTMENTS IN WASHINGTON Commodore Bateman in the last few years the Treasury Department at Washington he retained Mr. Coon as first assistant secretary for nearly a year. This was a cribute to Mr. Coon's financial acumen and also to his executive capacity. He is a bachelor, while Commodore Bateman has a wife and a little.
